

NATIVE PERENNIALS

Goldenrod, Showy

Solidago speciosa

This plant lives up to its name each autumn when it displays beautiful yellow flower spikes that are a favorite of native pollinators and butterflies. Grows well on moist to dry sites and reaches a height of up to 4 feet. A great cut flower for fall bouquets. Flowers dry well too. NOT a cause of hay fever.

Photo Credit: Prairie Moon Nursery