

GARDEN PERENNIALS

Bleeding Heart, Valentine

Dicentra spectabilis VALENTINE

A new spin on the classic old fashioned bleeding heart. The stems are deep red in color and the puffy heart shaped flowers are red with white tips.

Plant in part to full shade. Plants usually go dormant after flowering but if well watered may last into late summer.

Plant with reach a height of 30" with a 30" spread.

PHOTO CREDIT: Walters Garden

